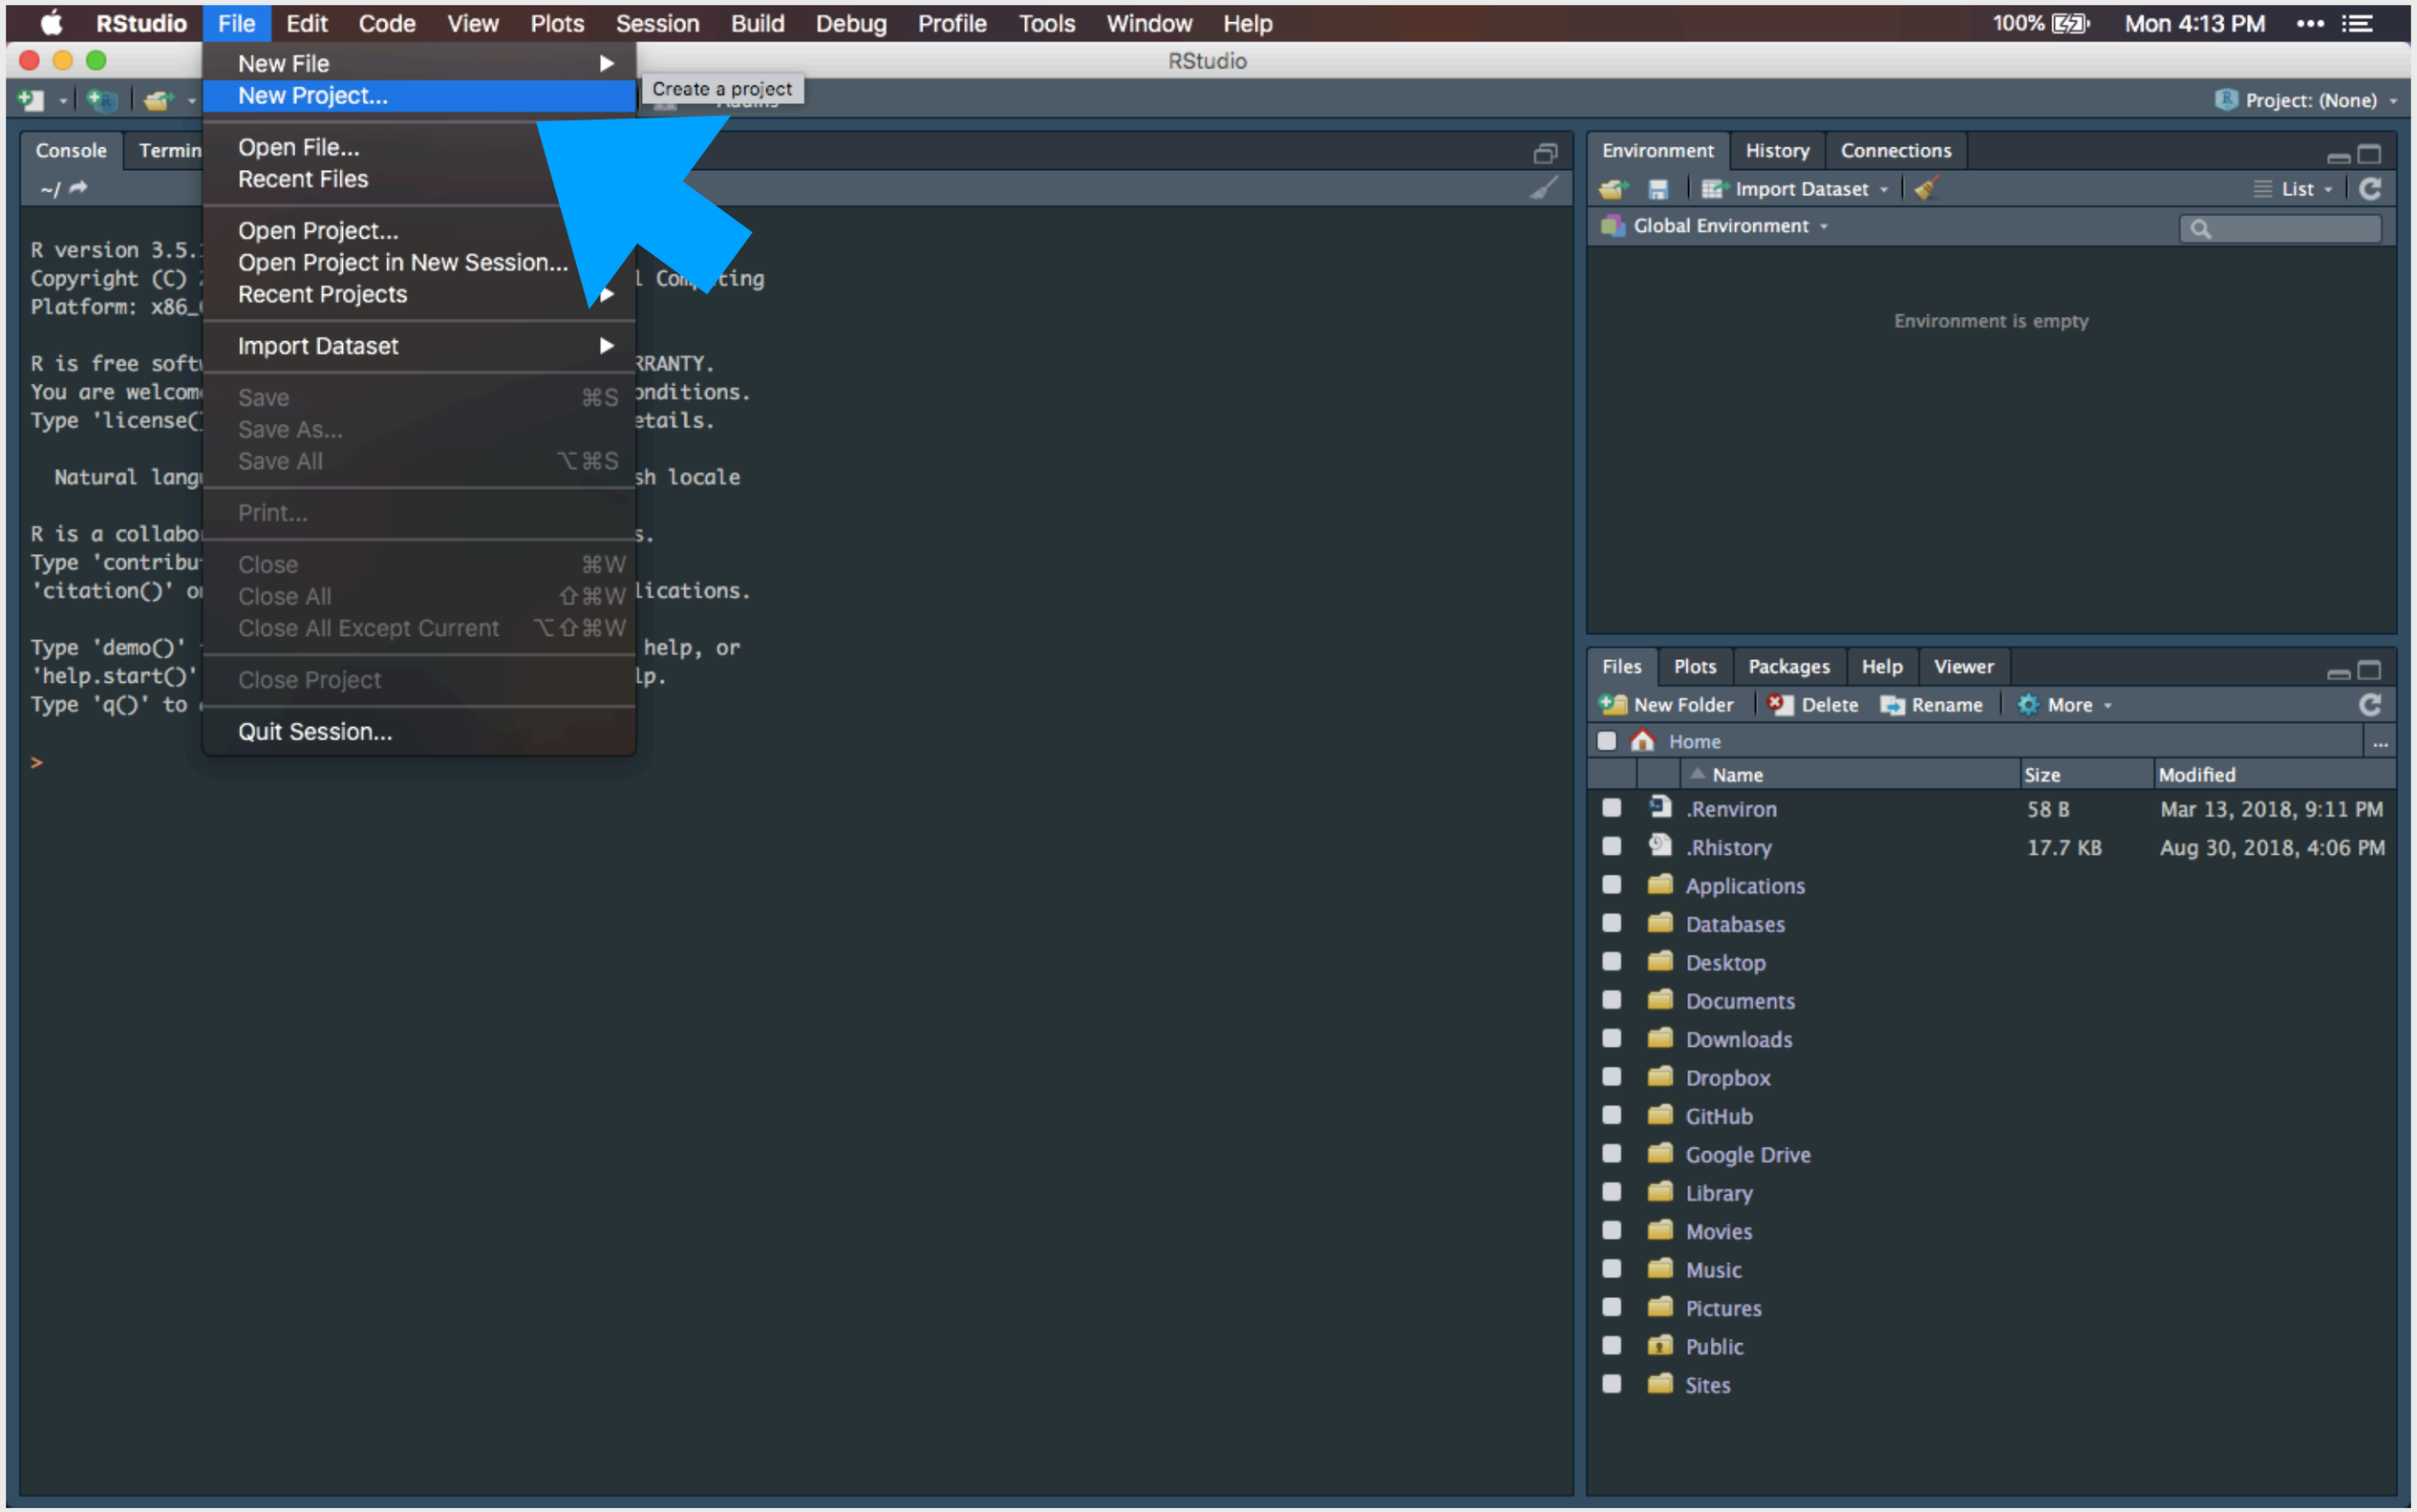
SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY™

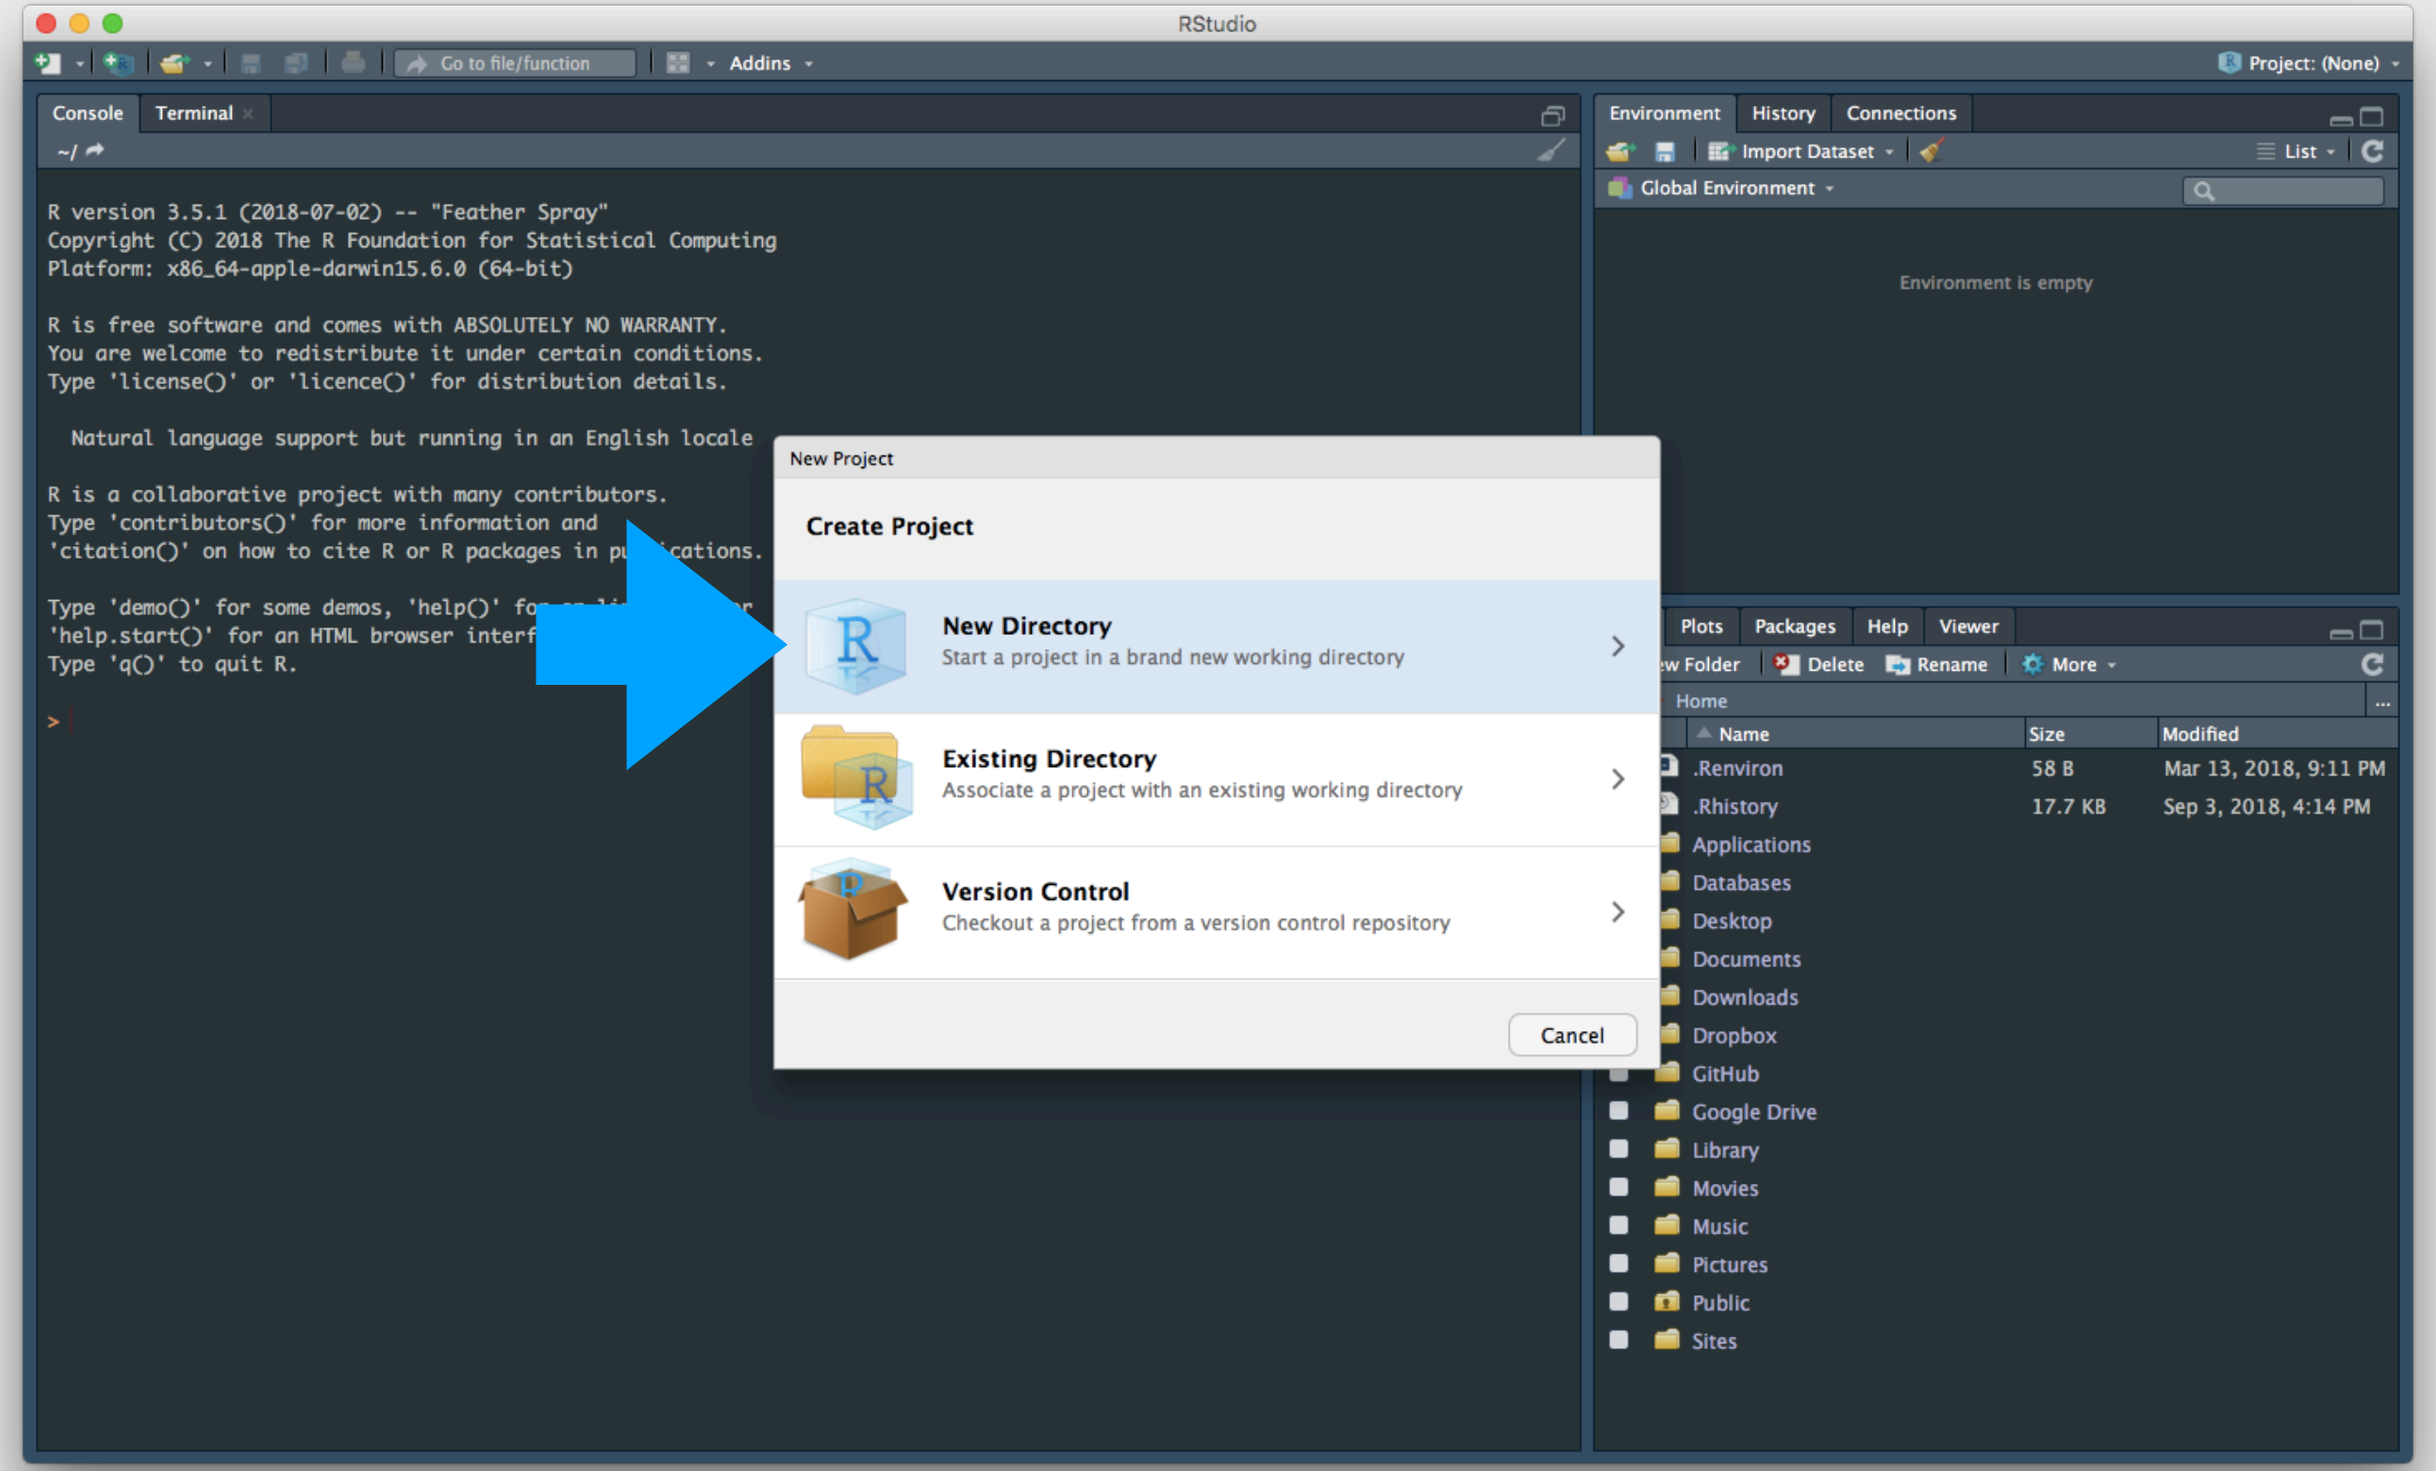
Lab-01

Analysis Development Replication

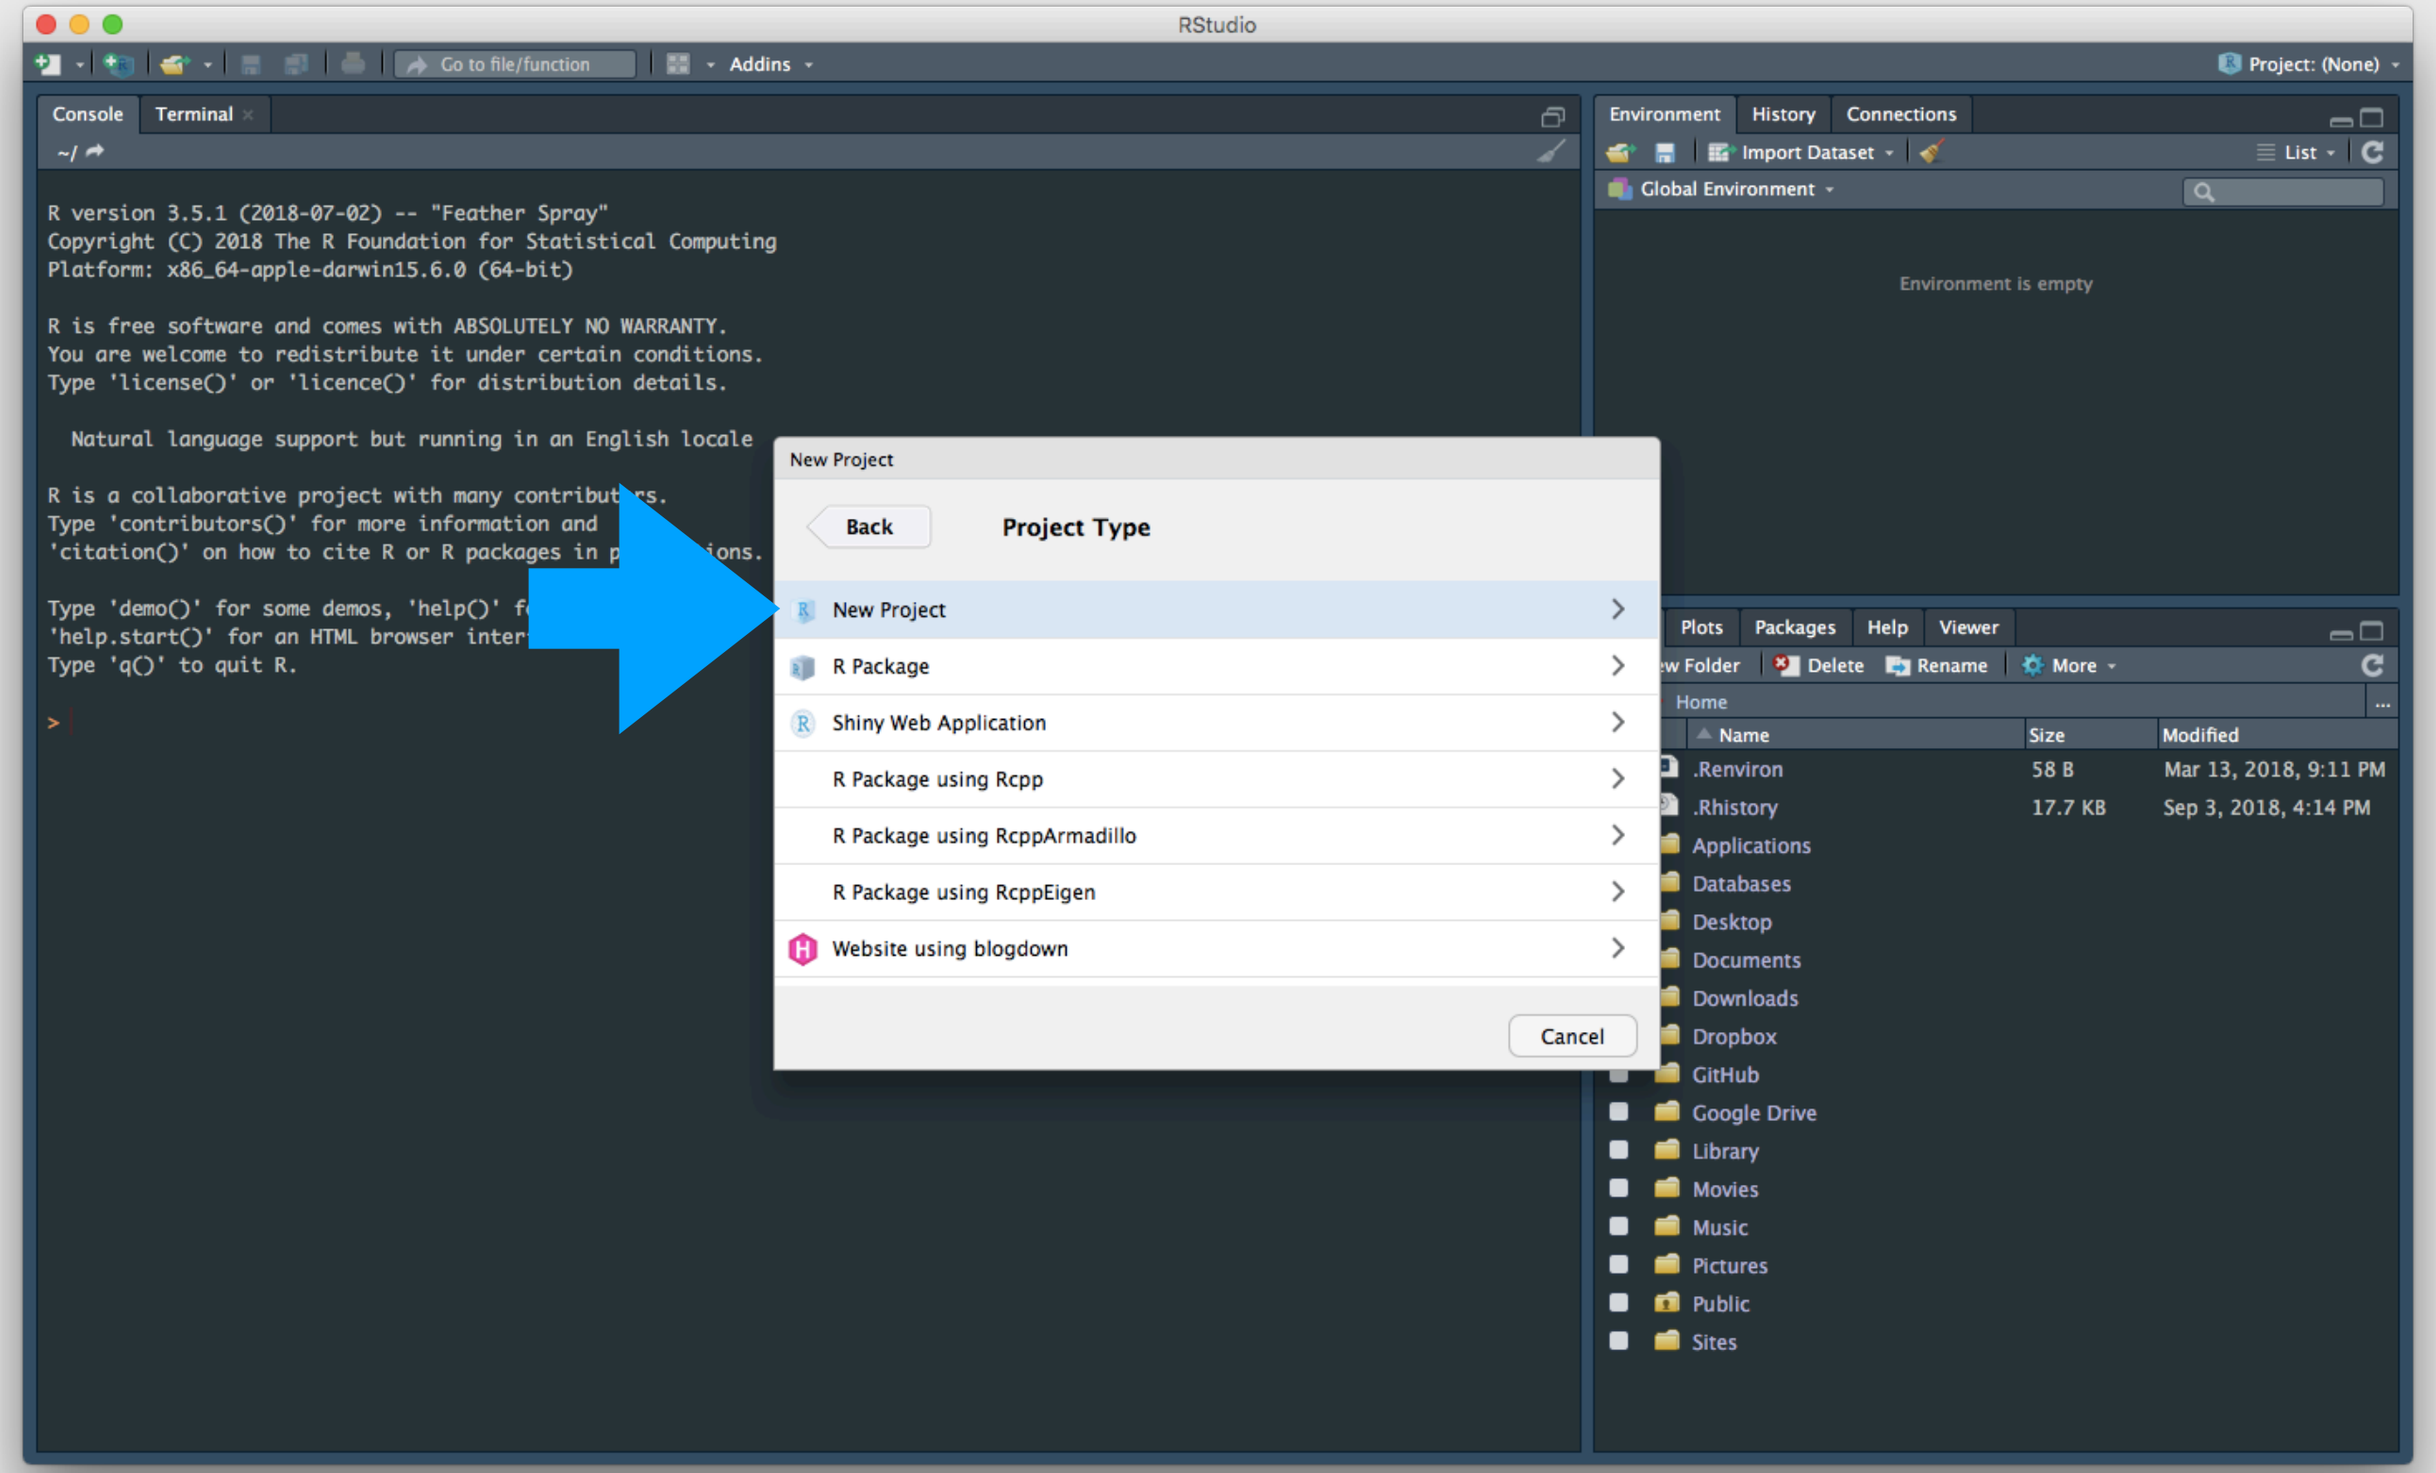
1. Create new project by going to File > New Project...



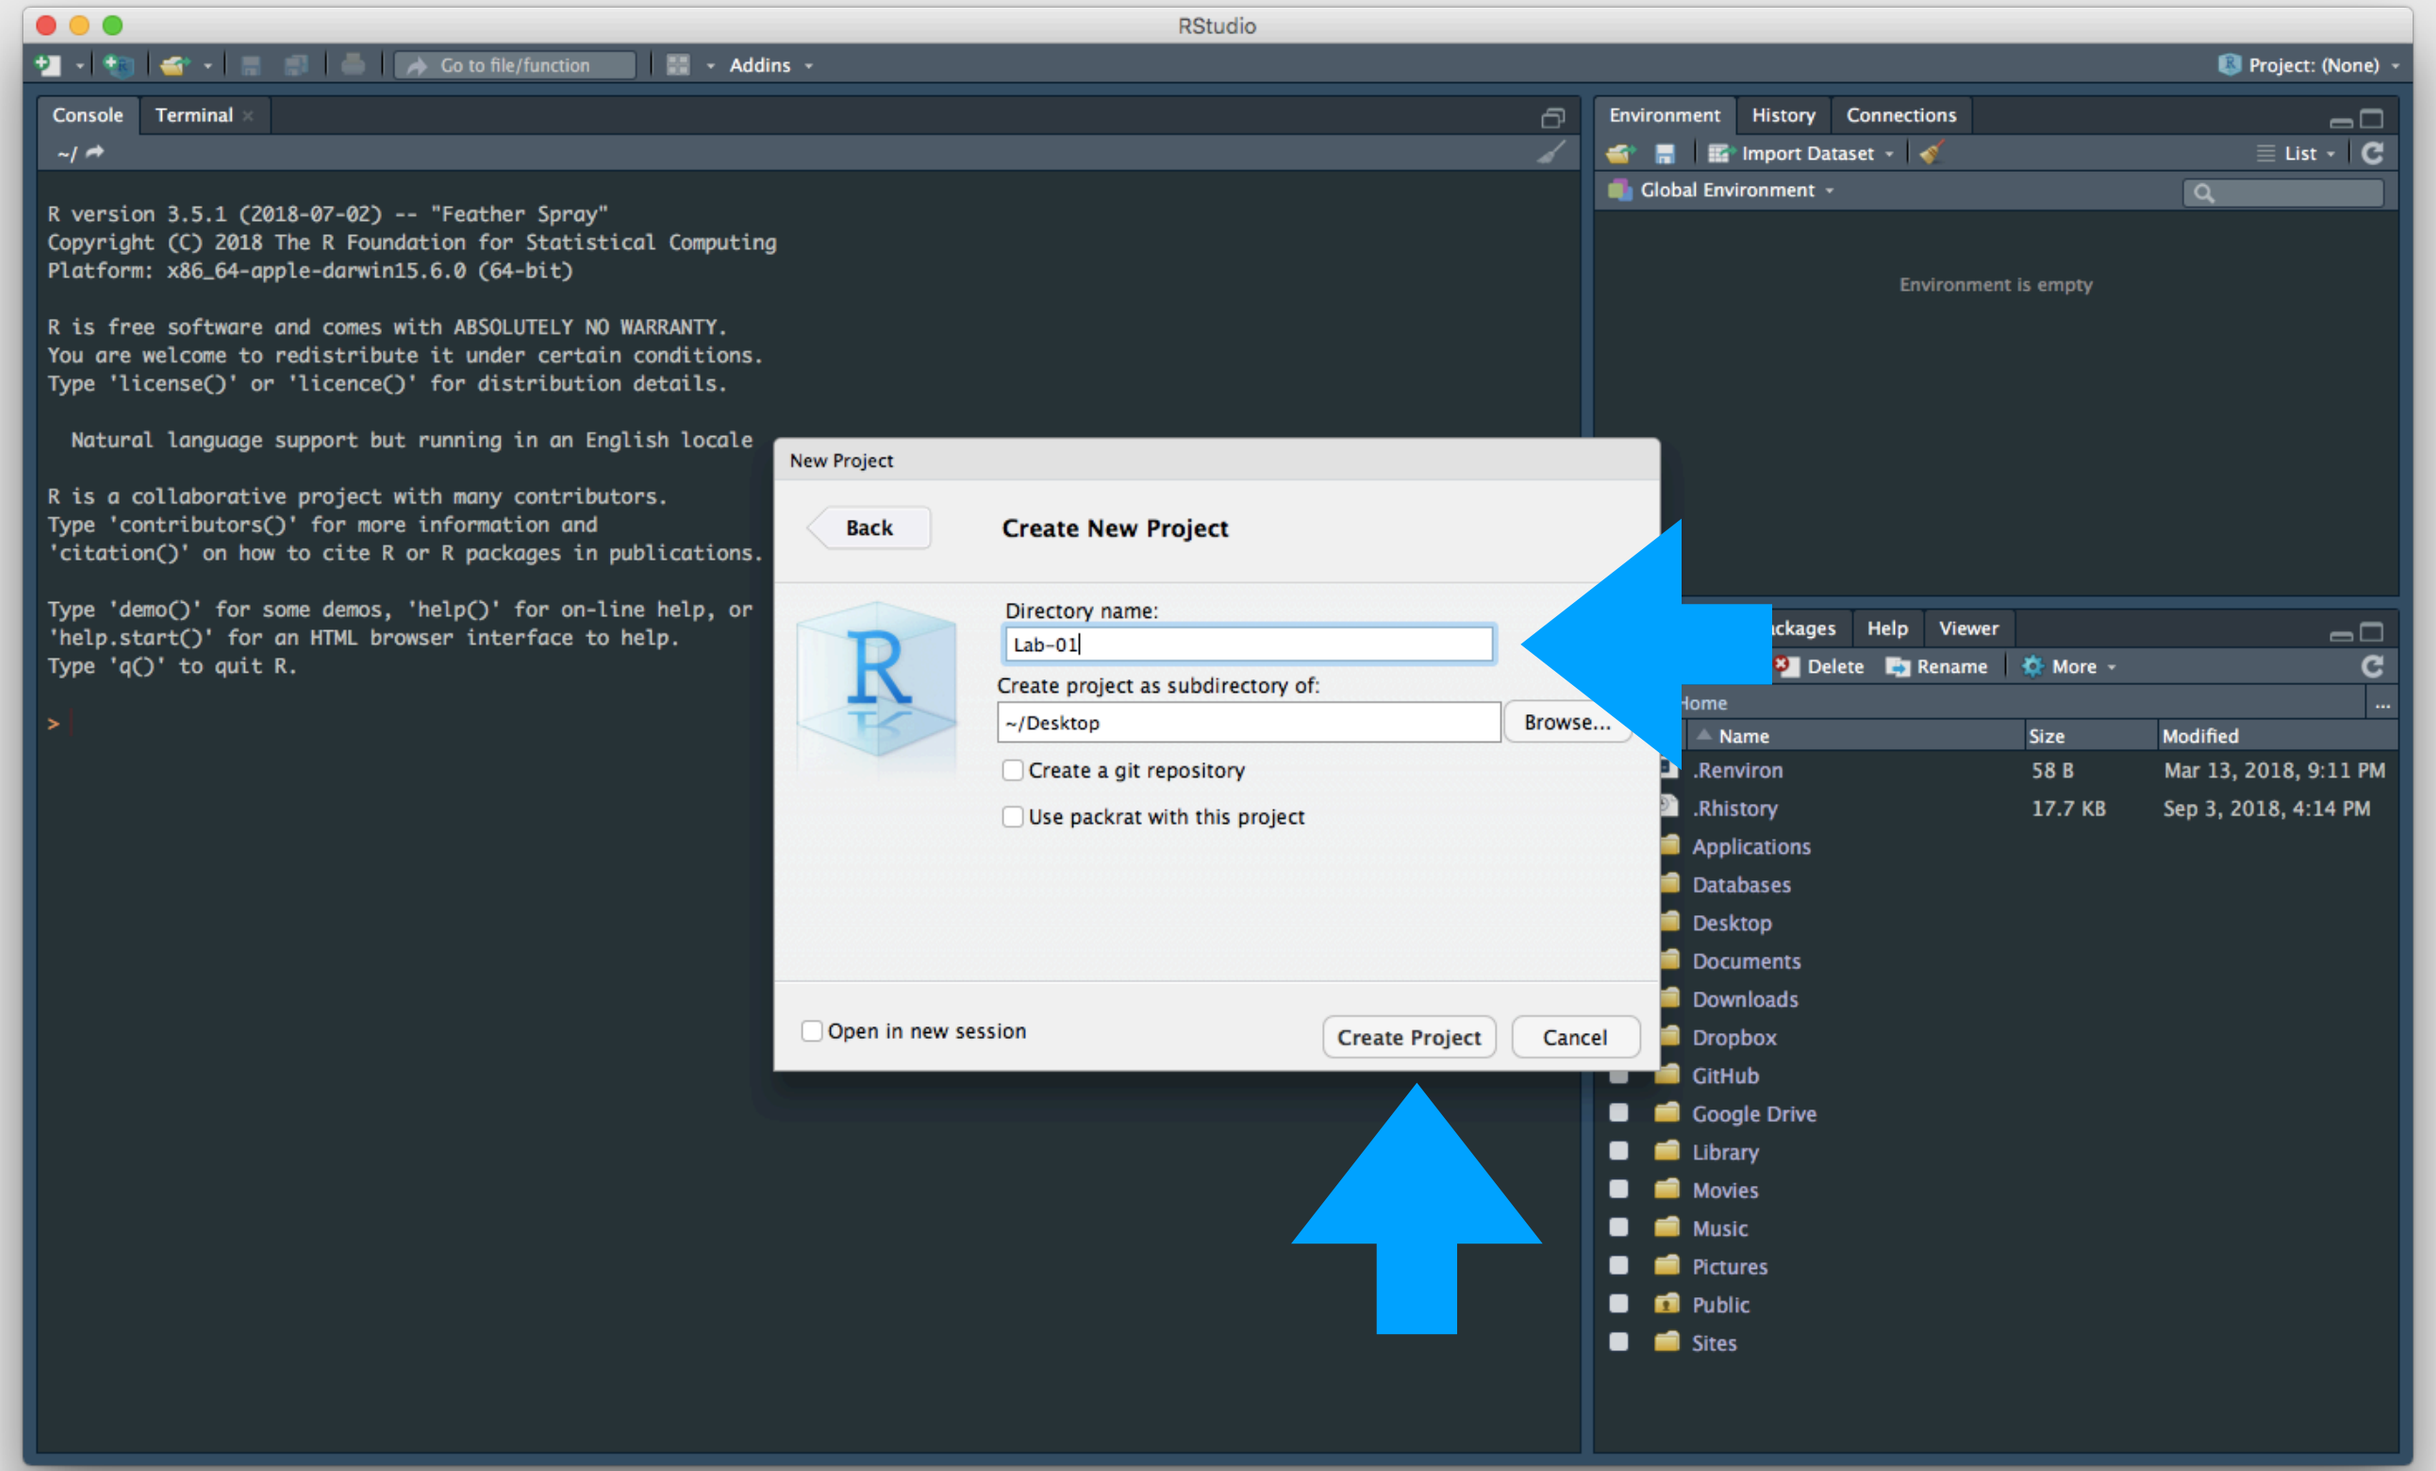
… and then selecting New Directory…



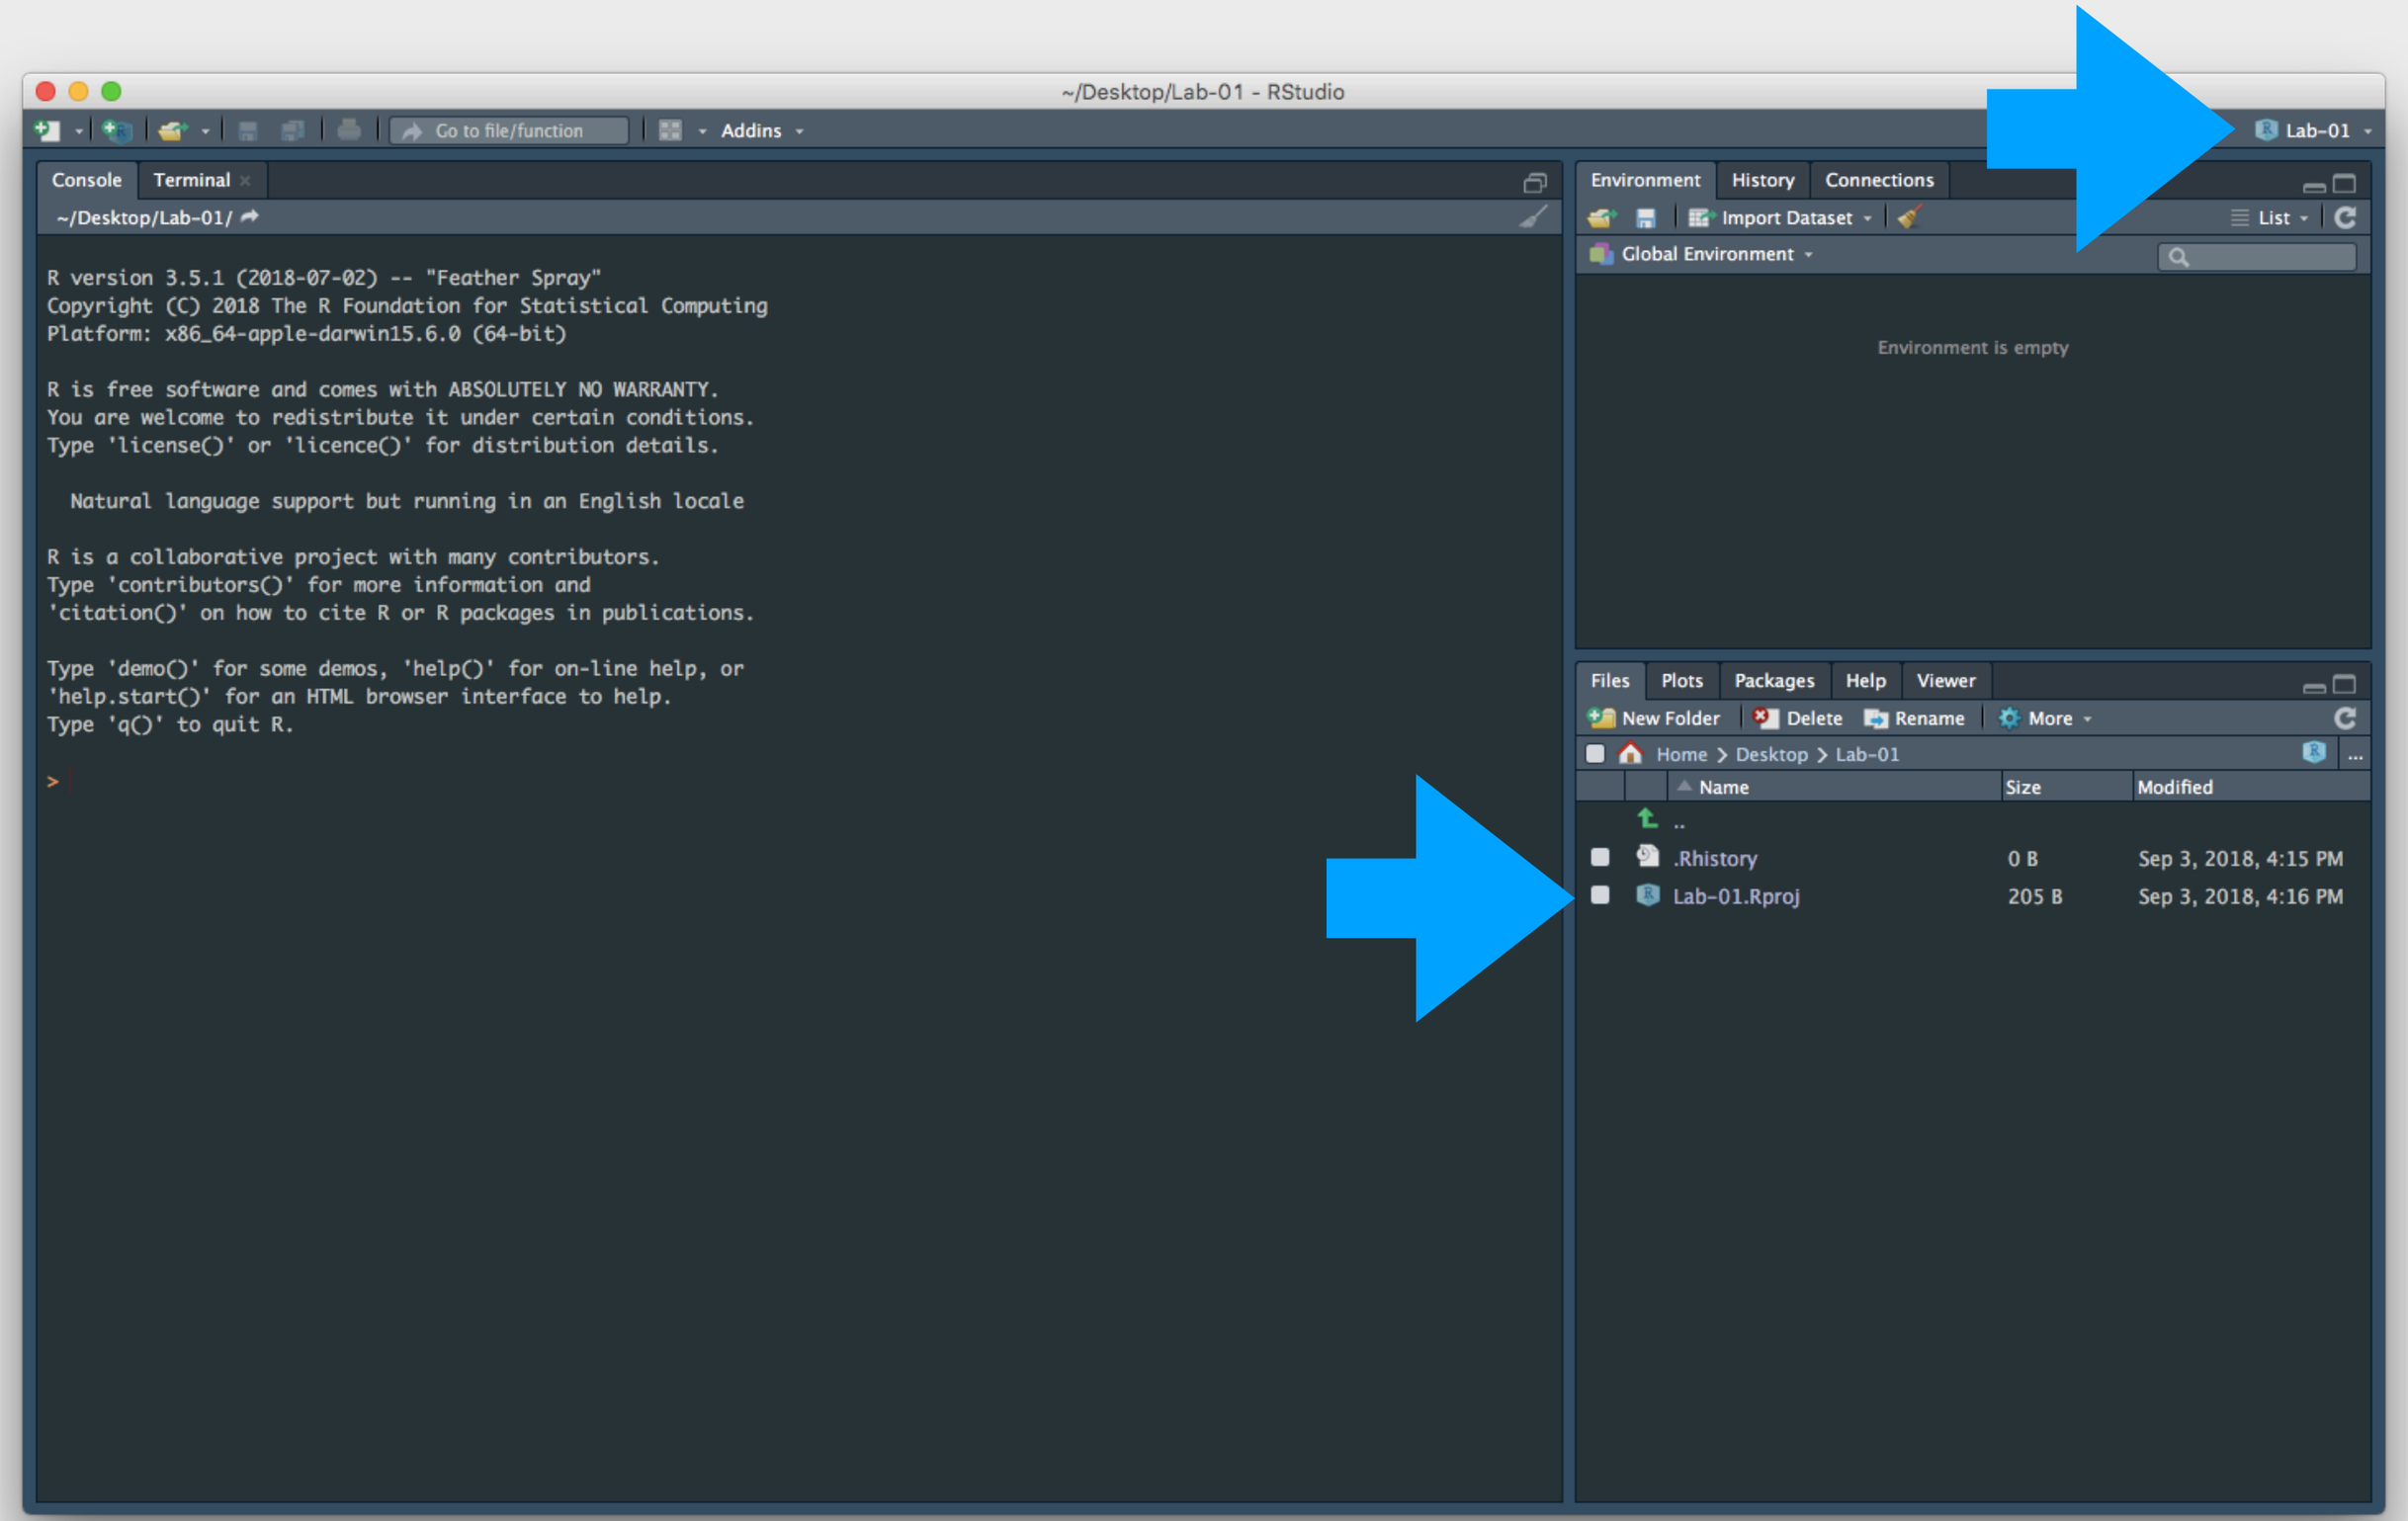
… and then New Project…



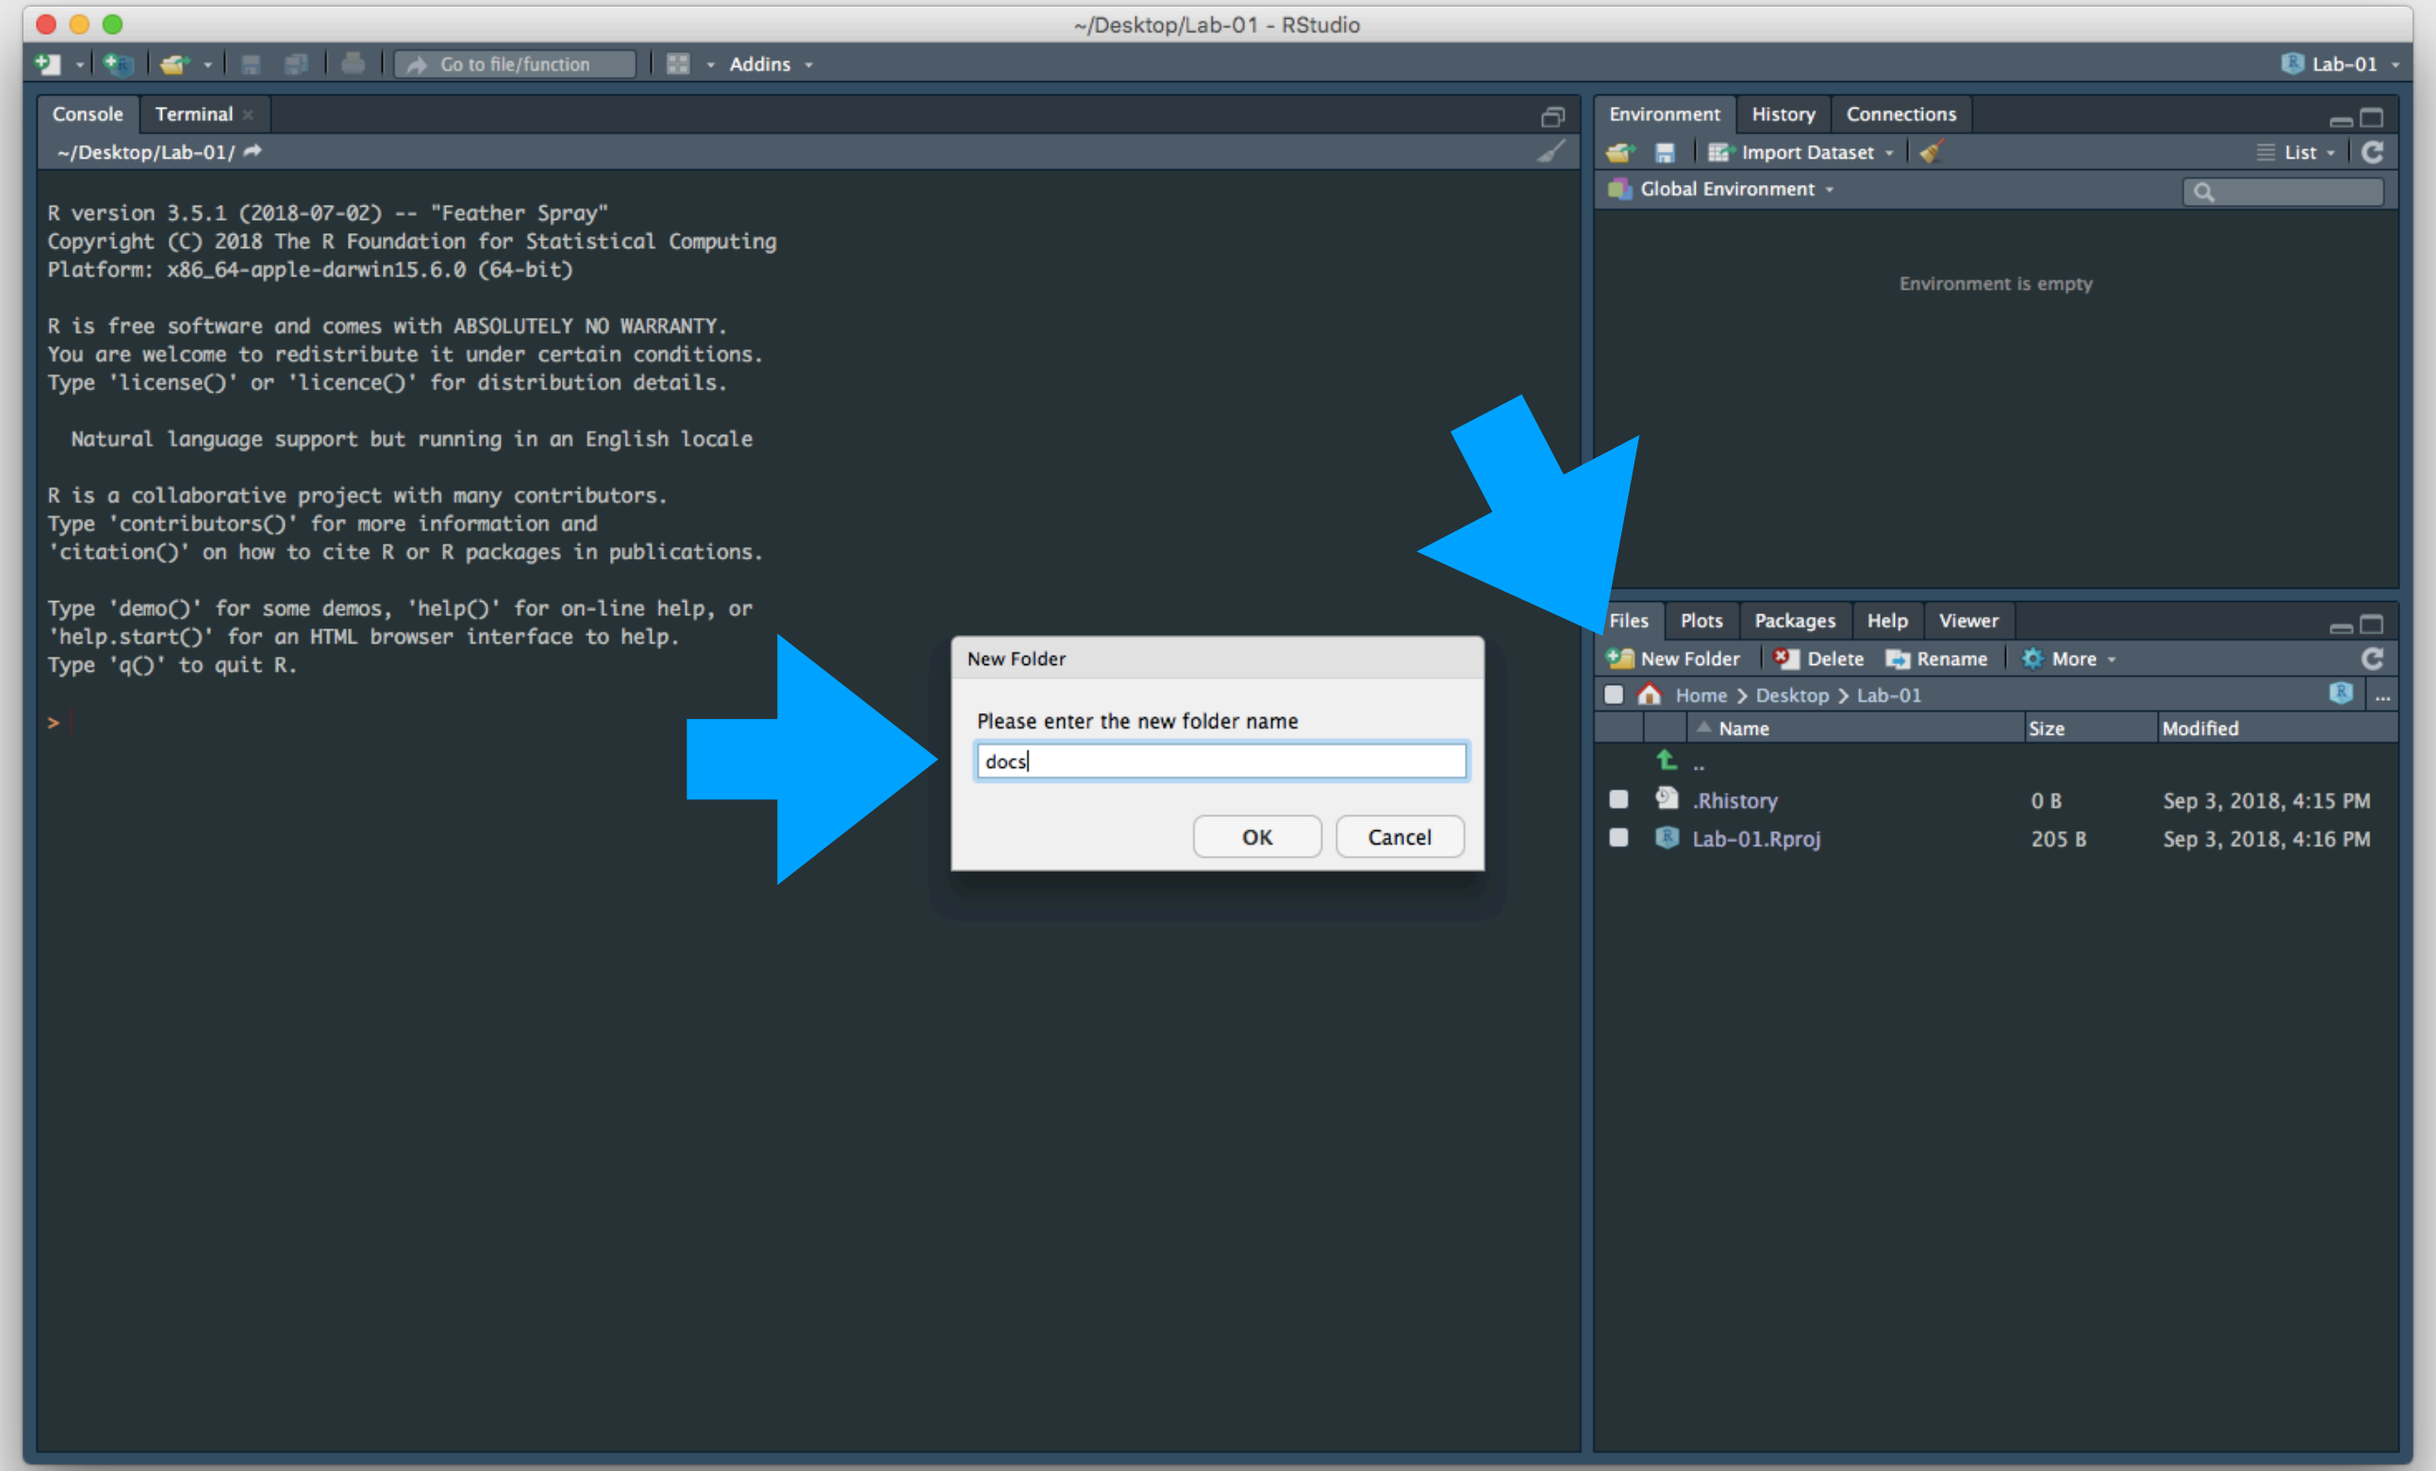
... Make sure your directory name is `Lab-01` and is saved to the `Desktop`.



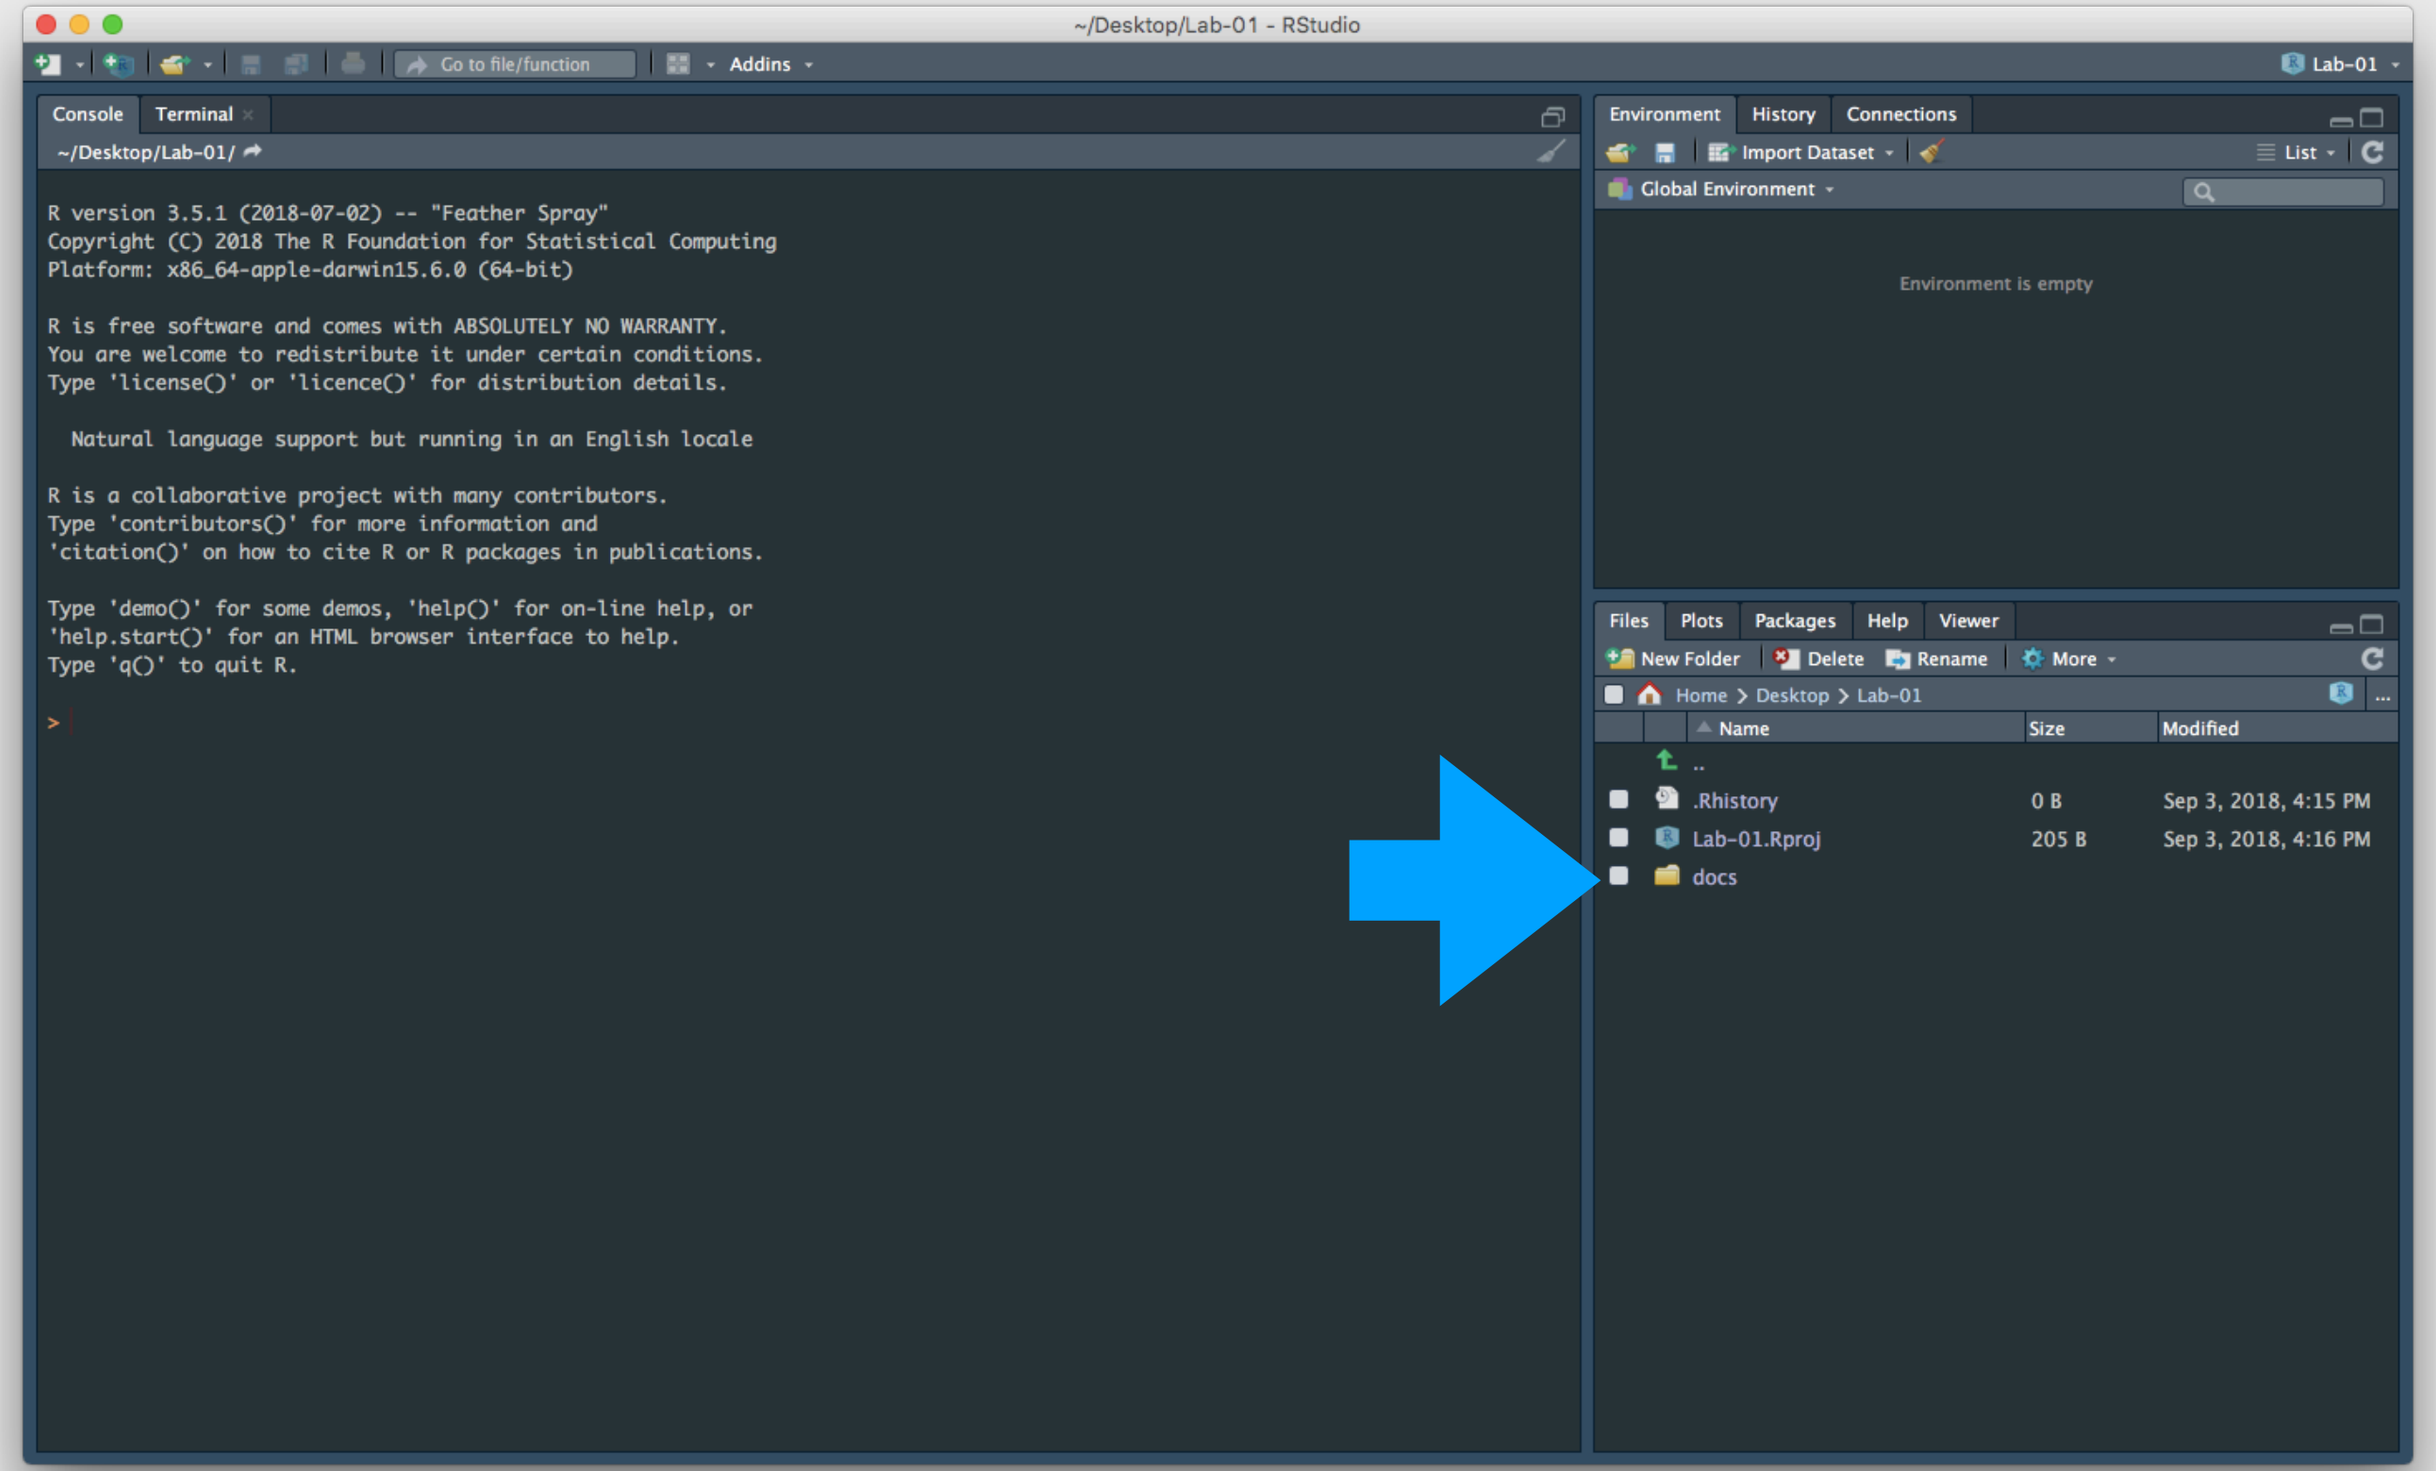
2. The new project should open automatically, and you should see its name in the upper righthand corner of the screen. You can also see it under the Files tab.



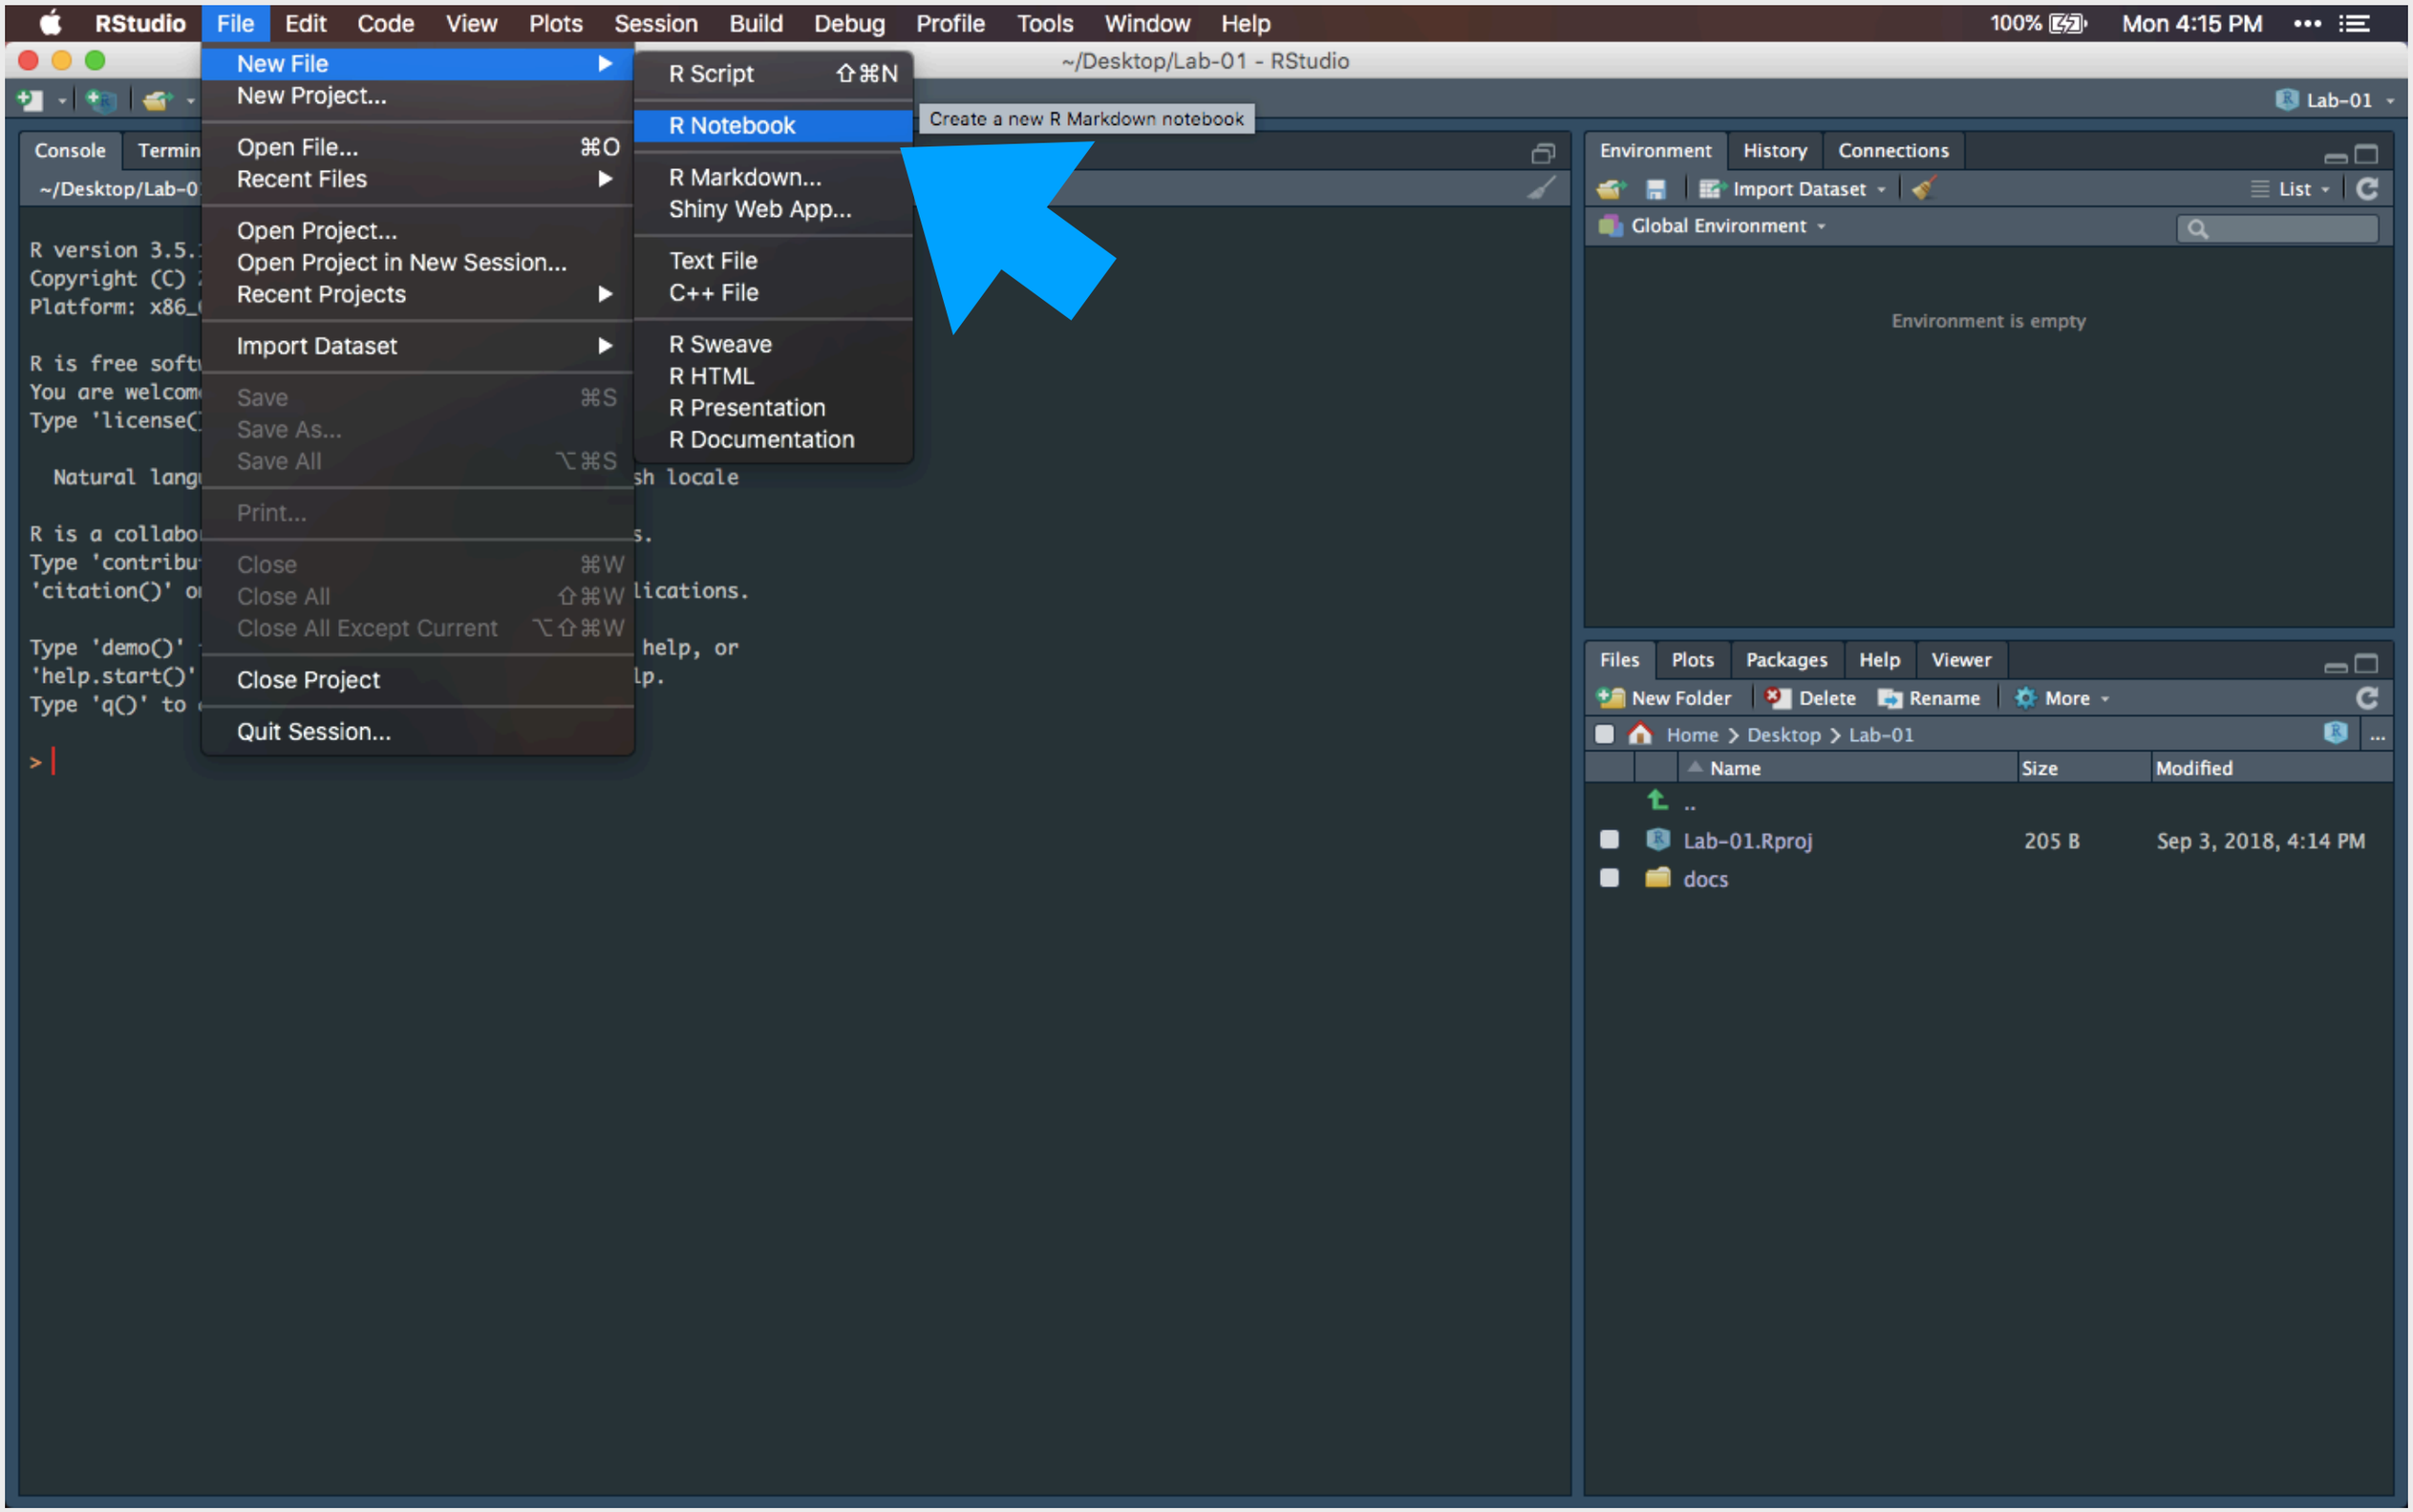
4. Click the New Folder button in the Files tab, creating a new folder called `docs`...

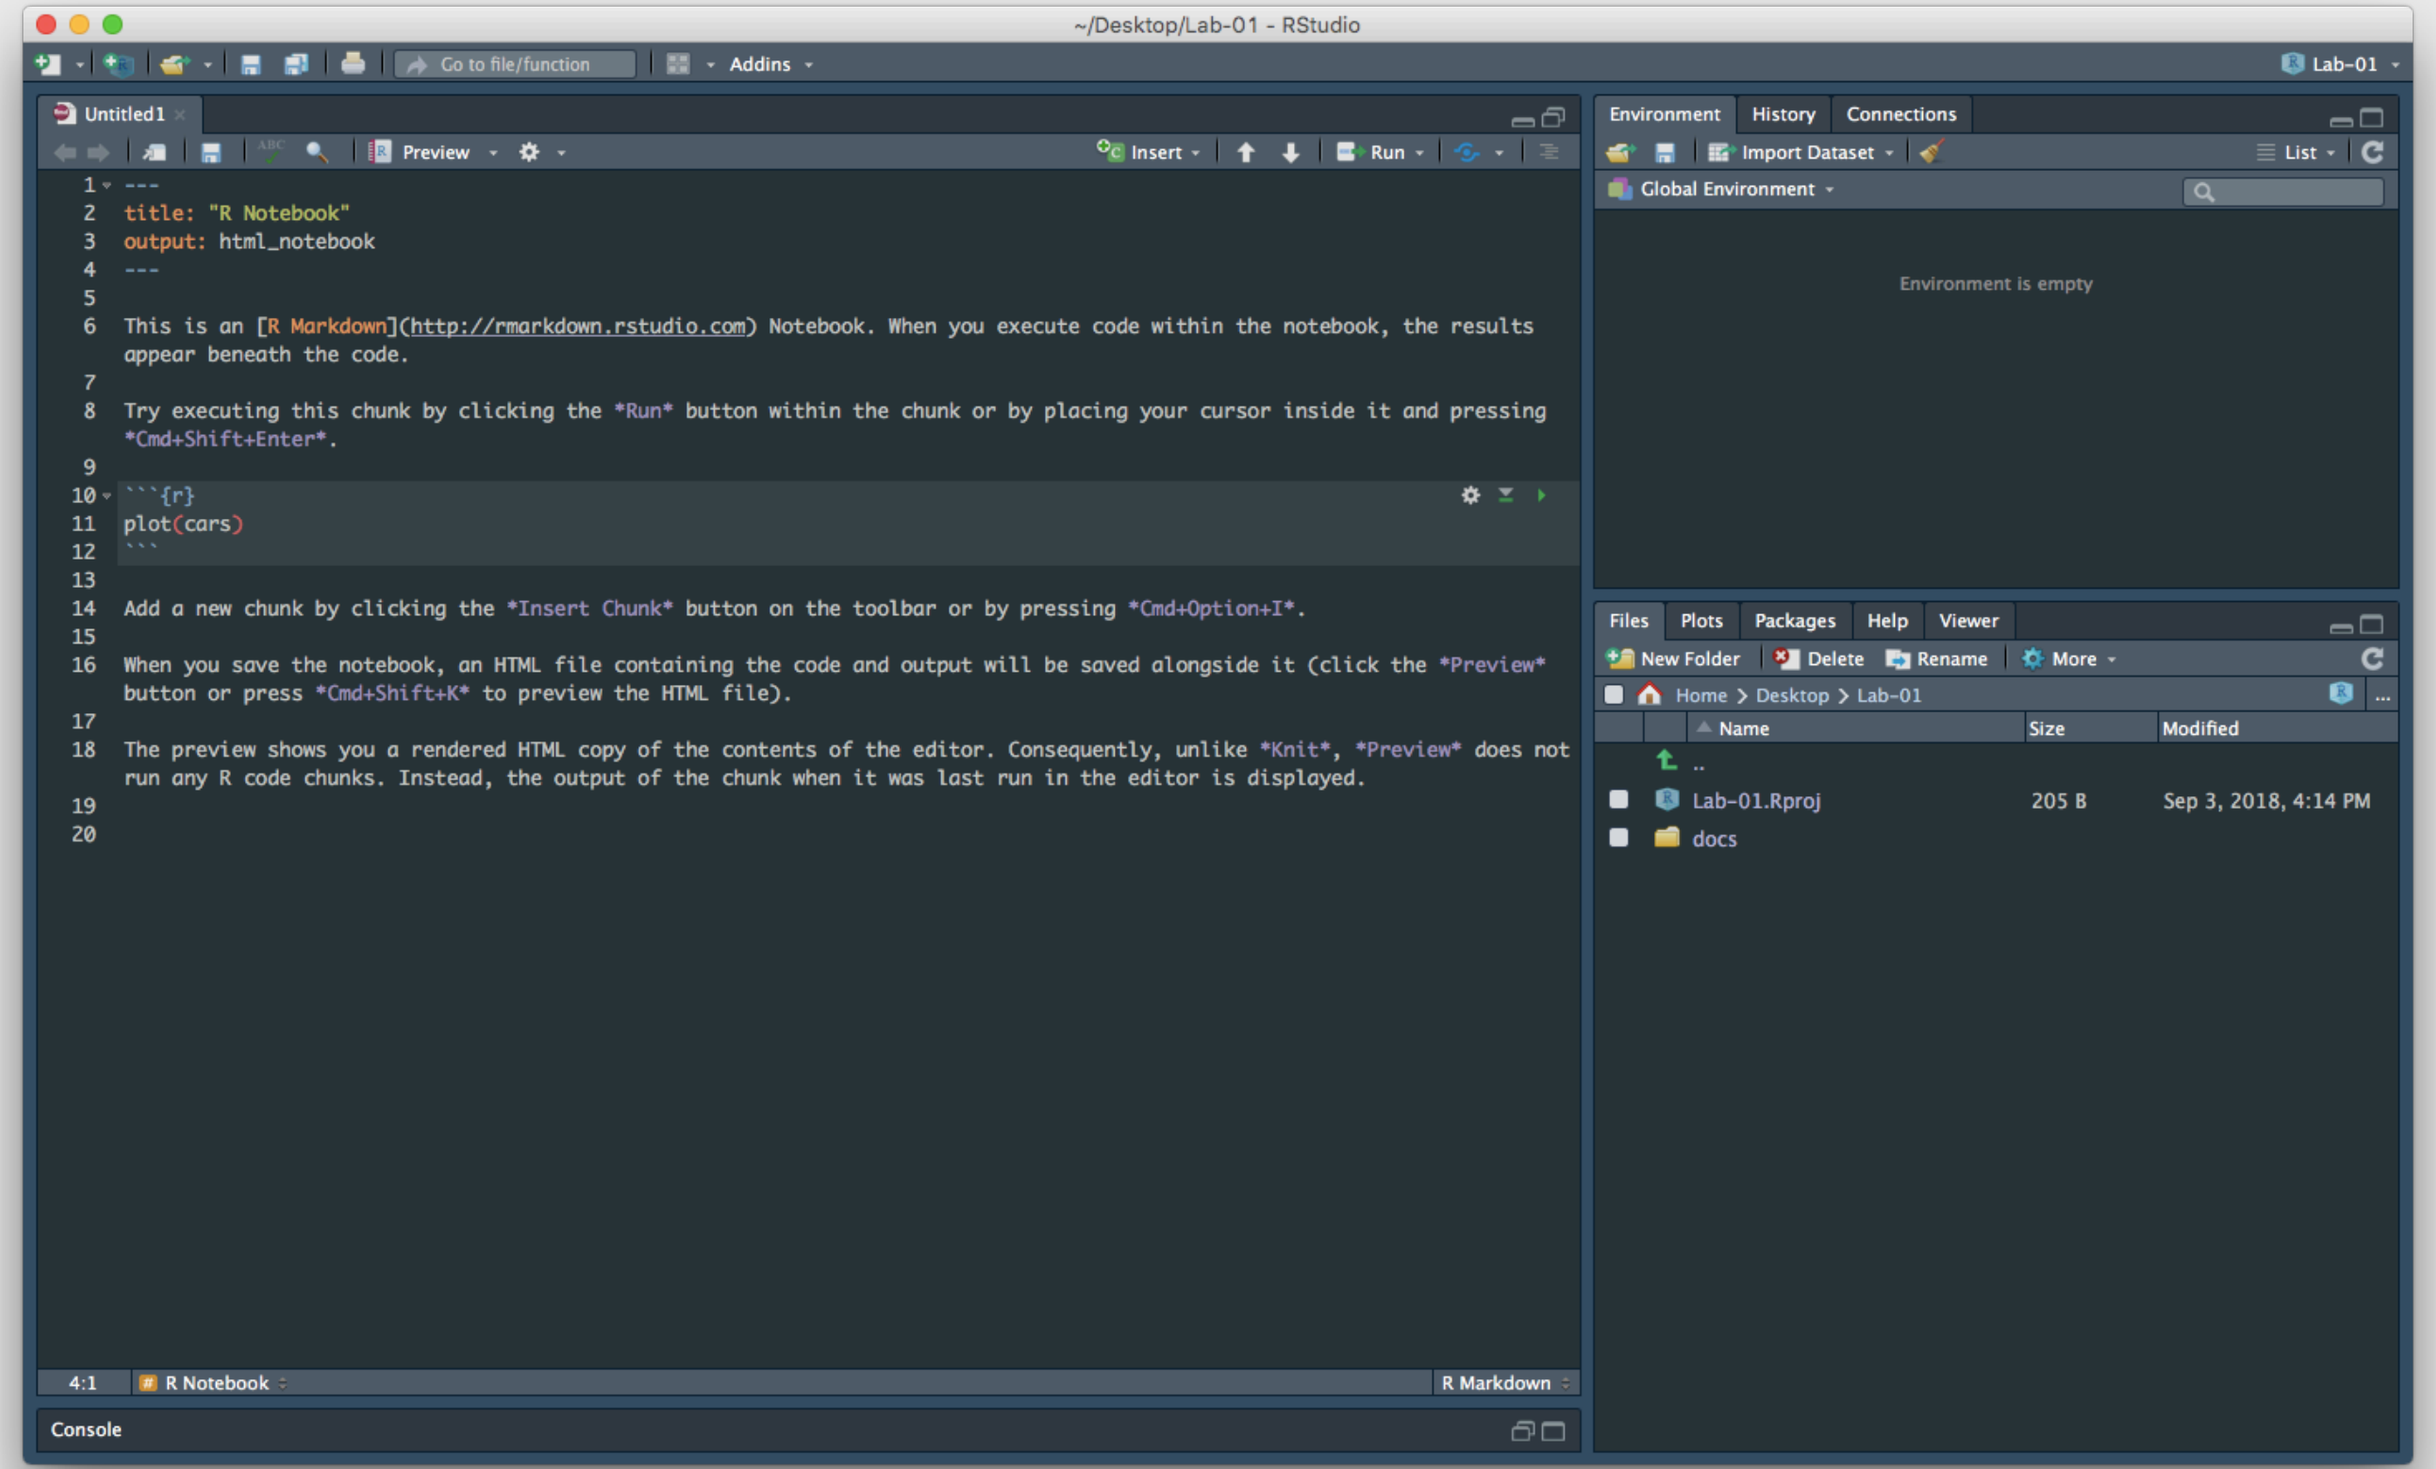


... You can see your new `docs/` folder under the Files tab.



5. Create new notebook by going to File > New File > R Notebook ...





... Your notebook should open automatically. Make sure you save it in the `docs/` folder before proceeding!
